● 1937 promises to bring us the greatest gardening activity in modern times. From Manhattan to Frisco thousands of new homes are being completed, each of them forming the basis of another beautiful garden picture.

● In the interest of better gardening, we are happy to offer you these pages of horticultural detail, with the good wish that they may guide you toward the garden of your dreams.

● You will find many things to instruct and delight, from the basic design to the finished landscape, with many illustrations and descriptions of hundreds of individual plants.

● We cordially invite you to visit our large Departmental Flower and Garden Center, located in the midst of our eleven acres of greenhouses and gardens—Grand River at Fenkell. Here you will find so much of horticultural interest that the first visit may be the golden opportunity to your future gardening success.

PLANTING AND CARE OF ROSES

Planting

Site. Sunny. Perfect drainage.
Soil Depth. 1½ to 3 feet.
Soil Mix. 50% clay sod; 20% cow-manure; 20% peat humus; 10% sand.
Keep roots moist before planting.
Trim bruised roots.
Cut back stems to 8 or 10 inches.
Dig large hole to prevent root cramping.
Set plant so that finished grade of bed covers bud or graft joint from 1 to 2 inches.
Tramp soil firm about roots and water until soil cannot absorb more.
Fill in to bed grade with loose soil.
Finished grade of bed should be about 2 inches below grade of lawn to allow maximum of water penetration.

Watering

Sprinkling every day is useless.
Pour on the water until the soil is saturated to the bottom of the bed. Determine the exact time and amount of water required by digging down in the bed, then water as needed.
Between waterings cultivate the surface to provide loose mulch.
Spray with dry sulphur against black-spot and mildew.
Spray with "Black-Leaf 40" against aphids.
Spray with arsenates against leaf-eating insects.

Protection

In November pull the loose soil up around the bush to a depth of a foot or more.
After the ground is frozen in December fill the entire Rose bed with leaves, straw, or other loose mulching material. This prevents excessive drying of the stems and assures healthy, live wood in spring.

A DESCRIPTION OF A LANDSCAPE DESIGN FOR A MODERN RESIDENTIAL GARDEN

ILLUSTRATED on the opposite page is a design for the landscape improvement of a modern city place. This plan is typical of the efficient work done by our landscape department, which is governed by thirty years of technical and practical experience. Thousands of plans have been created and executed with complete satisfaction in every case, and we believe that, from the standpoint of ability and conscientious work, our service is the best that can be offered. Every problem is studied in detail from the design to the real landscape picture, and must be original and harmonious to the individual requirement.

This particular plan clearly portrays the delightful possibilities of an ideal home site which is large enough to present a diversified arrangement of lawns and gardens. The area is made up of two 45-foot lots, bounded by streets on two sides, thus making it a corner lot, which is ideal for both service and beauty. The owner has taken advantage of a corner lot and selected a house plan with attached garage, thus providing compactness and allowing maximum space for a beautiful landscape development.

Careful thought has been given to the division of the lot into separate units, in order to assure the greatest possible interest, beauty and pleasure to the observer.

The front yard is treated simply, with the straight Colonial walk, open lawn, balanced and proportionate plantings of shrubs and evergreens, with shade trees to frame the completed picture and give spots of shade. Tall shrubbery accented with evergreens screens the drive court and service yard from the front. The front foundation is made up of evergreens planted in formal balance, with corners and entry accented with taller specimens. Windows are kept free of planting except for low varieties, and particular attention was given the arrangement so as to present a very interesting profile.

At the rear, the living porch opens directly into a formal rose garden framed with hedges of evergreens and flowering trees and shrubs. The central feature at the far end of the garden is the garden house or arbor nesting in a heavy plantation of evergreens.

The garden walks and central court are of grass, although the outer enclosing walks may be of patterned stone or slate, adding more variety to the general color scheme. A flowered trail through walls of shrubs and evergreens connects this area with the front yard.

Entrances through the rose garden enclosing hedge lead to the rock garden and to the outdoor living-room or nook behind the garage. These separate garden areas and their connections are developed from a principle of landscape design which when executed on the ground introduces the element of surprise into the arrangement. We can go from garden to garden just as we go from room to room in the house, and as we enter each new unit, we have the delightful surprise of a new vista or picture. All of this gives the garden an air of mystery bringing new enjoyment.

From the rose garden a neat gate takes us into a cozy outdoor nook, whose central feature is the outdoor fireplace built into the garage wall. The fireplace can be fitted for cooking, and then an entire meal could be served on the table in the center of the nook. To provide convenience, a gate connects the nook and laundry court.

Adjoining the nook is the flower lawn made up of heavy borders and backgrounds, with flowers in the foreground. This arrangement can produce a beautiful picture of harmonious texture, form and color.

Beyond this open flower glade is the rock garden, with pool and cascade naturally built into an enclosure of evergreens and shrubs, and with care and study this may become the most interesting of all garden developments.

From the rock garden is a winding trail which leads to the bird garden with its nesting and feeding nooks. In the plan these are indicated by letters; thus, FT is feeding table, and N is nest. In the center of the enclosure is a martin house, and this, with the addition of bird baths or fountains, makes a very interesting terminal nook for the garden as a whole.

While this design is for a larger lot than the average, the same principles may be applied to any property of any size or even to a bit of planting. Our landscape department has planned and executed definite artistic work on 40 or 50-foot lots, and with complete pictorial success. It is true that the entire work is done in much smaller proportion; yet beautiful pictures may be developed from a handful of shrubs, a few evergreens and flowers. But this requires the skill and training of a landscape service, which we can offer you every day of the year and at a price that you can afford to pay.

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS are spent every year in the misguided selection and improper arrangement of Nursery Stock.

Stahelin's PRACTICAL PLANTING PLANS will prevent unnecessary expense and assure harmonious pictures.

No Better Service can be found between New York and 'Frisco

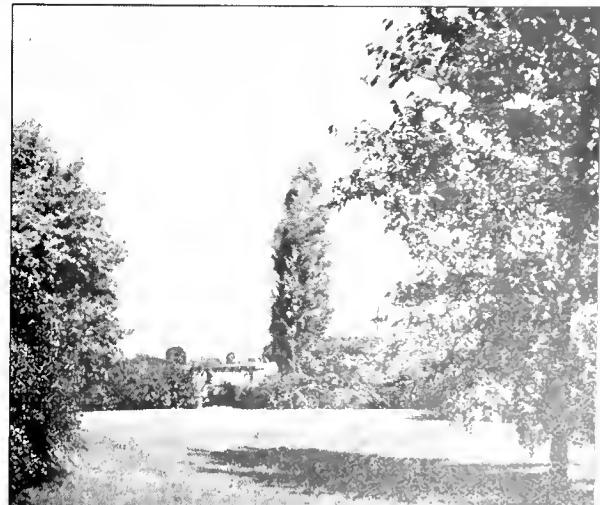

Our Landscape Department has become the center of interest in gardening circles and new letters of appreciation are constantly coming in thanking us for the beautiful work we have designed and completed. This creative and practical service is the best you can get anywhere in the U. S. A., for it is the result of 30 years of exceptional technique and practical experience in every phase of modern horticulture.

FREE PLANS—FOR OUR PATRONS ONLY

The plans which we prepare are the best that can be made. Each one is individual and an invaluable asset to the home-owner. For such efficient work we make a very reasonable charge. However, we will prepare sketches for any home-owner who agrees to purchase plants or planting from us to the amount of $25.00 or more. Personal visits to homes for advice and consultation, $1.00 to $5.00.

GET RID OF LAWN WEEDS

Get rid of lawn weeds permanently! There is but one satisfactory way of doing it, and that is to build up the grass plants so they can fight weeds. A lawn in which bare spots are reseeded and fed regularly with Vigoro (and grass not permitted to grow taller than 3 inches) will quickly develop dense root and top growth that will crowd out weeds and keep them out! Four pounds of Vigoro per 100 square feet of lawn or garden area is a "SQUARE MEAL." It's the most economical plant food you can buy. Use it on your lawn, flowers, and everything you grow.

SECRETS OF SUCCESS IN LAWN BUILDING

Making a successful lawn is an experienced and practical art. Tons of excellent seed are virtually wasted every year through lack of knowledge. Sowing seed alone does not guarantee a fine lawn. Accurate rules to follow:

- 1st. A good seed bed of rich loamy soil 4 to 6 inches deep.
- 2d. Mix thoroughly into the soil any good fertilizer (follow directions given with each brand).
- 3d. Rake soil to smooth surface, then rake lengthwise and sow half of seed. Rake lightly in opposite direction, sow balance, and rake lightly again.
- 4th. Sow STAHELIN'S SUPER-MIX at rate of 1 lb. or more per 100 sq. ft.
- 5th. Roll thoroughly and water with fine spray until soil is saturated. Continue to water once a day until grass is thick.
- 6th. Cut when 3 inches tall with mower blades set high. Gradually lower blades with future cuttings until normal adjustment can be made.
- 7th. Water to saturation once a week after lawn is established. Sprinkling an hour or two every day does little good.
- 8th. Pull weeds when they appear and fill holes with a little fine soil and a pinch of grass seed. This is a sure method to eradicate weeds.
- 9th. Weeding, fertilizing, sowing seed and rolling each spring and autumn and watering right, will result in a successful lawn.
